It was about 11 o'clock when he started home, and he had gone but a short distance before he was shot from the roadside. His brother brought him to the city this morning in a wagon and reached the hospital about 7 o'clock. The surgeons found that the man's thigh and hand had been peppered with shot, but his condition did not appear to be dangerous. The wounded man said that after he had trouble with the other man the latter went home and got his gun and then waited on the road for him. Timepiece Said to Have Been Lost

Nineteen Years Ago. Nineteen years ago William Jackson, colored, was robbed of his watch, and this morning he found it in possession of an elderly colored man at the Center market. Detective Watson was appealed to, and attempted to straighten out the matter. It was stated that Jackson, who worked along the country line, was relieved of his timepiece while he was asleep at the market. The old man who had the watch this morning was in Philadelphia about the time the theft was committed. His statement is that he gave an Ingersoil watch and $2 for the timepiece with Jackson's name scratched upon the inside case.

"I don't want to have the old man arrested," said Jackson to the detective, "but I do want my watch." Detective Watson was without authority to settle the dispute, and went with th men to the office of the prosecuting attor-ney at the Police Court. The elderly man could see no reason why he should lose his own watch and the $2, and wanted to compromise with Jackson by surrendering the timepiece upon payment of $2. PAINTERS WITHDRAW.

Sever Relations With Allied Building The Annual Event Will Take Place

Trades-The New Organization. Painters' local No. 368, at a called meeting of that body last night, withdrew from the Council of Allied Building Trades. This is regarded in labor circles as a decisive move in the direction of the formation in this city of a branch of the Structural Building Trades Alliance, known as the rival organization. While final action was not taken by the painters in affiliating their local with the alliance, it is reported that such affiliation is only the matter of a short

"The reason we have not applied for a district charter from the national alliance,' said a well-known carpenter, "is because we do not want to go into the new organization piecemeal. When the local branch is organized we want to have all, or at east a majority, of the basic trades with us. We regard the move of the painters last night in withdrawing from the council as an encouragement to the Carpenters' Union to go ahead in the movement they have started."

When asked if the bricklayers would nite with the carpenters in forming a local alliance the speaker said:
"Certain members of the council are trying to discourage the bricklayers from join-ing us, but eventually, for their own interest, they will be in the movement."

The withdrawal of the carpenters' unions from the Council of Allied Building Trades, as announced by The Star at the time of the occurrence, marked the first step in the formation of the opposition body here. The carpenters are the pioneers in the movement. The painters, at their meeting last night, appointed a committee, it is said, to confer with representatives of the other building trades concerning the plans for forming the alliance, but they are required to report back to their union before lefinite action will be taken. This may be done at another special meeting which, it is reported, will be held next Friday evening.
"We are simply trying to get 'the lay of the land' before we move," was the way a painter described in a nutshell the present

Funeral of Andrew Kalstrom. Volney Lucas, the Rev. Charles Shaeffer and the Rev. Louis C. Sheafe. The serv-ices at the house included scriptural read-ing, prayer and song. Friends and relatives of the deceased were present in large num-

The services at the church were witnessed by a large congregation, including promient members of the Order of Good Temleader for many years, members of social clubs with which the family has been connected and comrades of Farragut Post, No. 10, G. A. R., of which deceased was a member. His comrades were his pallbearers.

The burial case was entwined with the national flag and banked with floral pieces of varied designs and great beauty.

The exercises, simple and impressive throughout, included the reading of a sketch by Mr. Lucas in review of the life of the deceased from his birth in Sweden fifty-six years ago. High tribute was given to his character as a man and a Christian. This was emphasized in brief addresses by Pastors Shaeffer and Sheafe. Several songs were sung by the church choir, led by Mr. Sheafe, Miss Clara Sheafe, his daughter, presiding at the organ. The interment was at the Congressional cemetery. $1.25 Baltimore and Return, B. & O. R. R., Saturday and Sunday. All trains both ways both days, except Royal Limited. "Hourly Service" Saturday.—Advt.

Sorrow for Death of T. E. Roessle. An elaborate set of resolutions, expressing sorrow for the death of Mr. T. J. Roessle, formerly proprietor of the Ar-were adopted by the Colored Waiters and Ex-waiters' Association of the District of Columbia at a meeting held last night. The resolutions recite that Mr. Roessle was a great friend of the waiters and a benefactor to the colored race generally. Continuing, the resolutions set forth:

"That in his death the national city has lost a valuable and useful citizen, the hotel brotherhood a most worthy and exand tried benefactor."

The resolutions are signed by Alex. D. Watson, president; John H. West, first vice president; Robert F. Lewis, second vice president; Nelson J. Booker, treasurer; J. R. F. Browne, recording secre-

MARSHALL HALL TOURNAMENT. THREE MONTHS IN WORKHOUSE. Boy Sentenced for Stealing a Crate of

> Eggs. James Hopkins, an eighteen-year-old colored youth, told such an improbable story when he was arraigned in the United States branch of the Police Court this morning on a charge of stealing a crate containing thirty dozen eggs that Judge Mills sentenced him to three months in the workhouse without the alternative of paying a fine. Policeman Murphy of the first precinct told the court that he saw Hopkins with the crate of eggs near the Center market yesterday and that he questioned him about the owner because he was having considerable difficulty in carrying it. He was unable to give a satisfactory answer and was escorted to the station house, where he was lodged in a cell. An investigation was made and it was found that the crate of eggs had been taken from a wagon belonging to William Baughman while it was standing near the market. Hopkins declared to the court that he had been employed by a man to assist him in carrying the eggs and was to receive 5 cents for his services. He said he did not know how far he was to go and that when the other man saw the officer approaching he left, saying he would be back in a short time.

Finds No Charge Against Him.

"There is nothing against this man." said Judge O'Neal in the Police Court this morning after he had heard testimony in the case of Oscar McDaniel, colored, for alleged vagrancy, " and I'll take his personal

Under the circumstances the prisoner and his counsel thought he was entitled to an acquittal. Attorney Peyton argued for a dismissal of the charge, but personal bonds was the best the court would do.
